Let's say hello to the Zasada Family from Cedar Lake, Indiana!

Todd has been faithfully supporting his family of 7 for 25 years at NB Coatings. He is the two-time reigning Paint Rules League Fantasy Football Champion - soon to be dethroned since he didn't make the playoffs this year. Todd's brought along his wife and 5 children today:

Julie has been at home with the children for 16 years and is in her 4th year of homeschooling. She also volunteers (on a practically full-time basis) as Executive Director of the Cedar Lake Historical Association.

Justin is now the 3rd official driver in the house, taking his 2nd software development class at Ivy Tech while pursuing junior year of high school, and working part-time at McDonald's.

Tim is a freshly minted 15-year old. He was recently confirmed (as Isidore). He achieved a perfect score at his band solo competition in the spring. Of all the Z-boys, he is the official video game junkie.

Nate is the newest Zasada teenager. He is the sci-fi buff and prefers Star Wars to Star Trek and enjoys Dr. Who. He recently performed his first trumpet solo of "Taps" at the Veterans Day concert.

Ali has started 1st grade and took up violin this year. As of right now, she looks forward to being a violin teacher someday.

Mary Helen is anticipating her 3rd birthday in January. She is mostly potty trained and enjoys play time with her big sister. With her brothers? Not so much. It depends if they are torturing or nurturing her.

Zasada Christmas Episode

TOP 16 ZASADA KID QUOTES ARE ON THE BOARD

TODD: Why don't you doctor it up if it tastes too plain? If you're not going to eat it, you've got to eat something.

JUSTIN: I'm going to finish it, but I'm going to complain about it.

MOM: Lifehouse is playing 2 more shows in Missouri and I was going to go to those too, but I thought you guys might not appreciate me being gone again (after attending 2 other shows in the same week).

JUSTIN: No, you don't have enough time to become a groupie.

MOM: Do you want to read a magazine instead? (while watching HGTV at the dentist's office.

JUSTIN: No. A lot of these are the magazine version of HGTV.

MOM: What comes next?

ALI: 76! ...Hmmm, that's almost daddy's age!

MOM: Before you go to bed, you have to get this house spic-and-span.

ALI: What's spic-and-span?

ALI: I'm trying to figure out how many more bites I have left.

MARY HELEN: 1 2 3 GO!

ALI: Ugh! I can't live like this with a counting baby!

ALI: Mom, you have a neat dad. Did he have brown hair in the olden days?

TIM: Why would I do that?! (after being assigned a new study/review technique)

MOM: Because you're using your brain in a different way.

TIM: Nobody uses their brain anymore!

MOM: You want to keep these sweatpants?

ALI: Hmmm, that's Tim's style. Girls don't really wear sweatpants. Let 'em go. (while sorting through her fall/winter clothes to give away)

MOM: Wow, that's a big family you've got there (viewing a collection of her stuffed animals lined up on the couch)

ALI: (Incredulously) A BIG family?! It's only 3 kids! That's not a BIG family. Dad! Mom said 3 kids is a big family!

MOM: Be careful, it's super hot!

JUSTIN: My fingers are invincible now. (in reference to the grease burns endured at his job on the grill at McDonalds)

MARY HELEN: Mommy, I'm gonna ride in a host-er coaster! (talking about what she'll do at Great America.

NATHAN: (watching Brady Bunch when Mrs. Brady picks up the house phone) She just picked up that plain phone without looking. How does she know who it is?

MOM: Do you know how to change Mary's diapers? (before leaving Nate to babysit the girls)

NATE: Not really, but Ali can probably help me. But if she poops, it's all over!

ALI TO DAD: You're not bald! You're hairless!!!

MOM: You're such a bully. No one else is so mean.

TIM: What are you talking about? Mary's the only nice one. So is Justin. That's cause Justin doesn't talk and Mary doesn't know how to talk.
